Five Cars Derail On SF Siding

Five cars of a 77-car Santa Fe freight train derailed Monday when a rail on the Cameron siding broke near the South Bowie Street crossing.

According to Santa Fe track supervisor, R. L. Nichols of Temple, the break may have been caused by a "sun kink," railroad term for a heat-bent rail.

Three of the 100-ton covered hopper cars turned over, spilling their loads of potash. Two cars stayed upright.

The westbound freight had pulled into the siding about 12:35 p.m. to let an eastbound freight pass when the rail broke. The cars fell toward the right-of-way, knocking down a communications pole.

About 200 to 250 feet of track was torn up, one section of the broken rail passing through the lower frame of the overturned car. Cross-ties were splintered and ballast churned up by the derailment.

None of the crewmen on the train were injured. The derailed cars were about 25 or 30 cars back from the train's engine. Work crews began unloading the cars Tuesday and equipment was brought in to move the damaged cars.

from the cars. The five derailed cars were part of a 77-car Santa Fe freight train which had pulled into the siding to let an approaching freight pass.

BROKEN RAIL protrudes from the bottom of an overturned car, center. A long section of rail passed through the framework of the car after it broke, derailing five cars. About 250 feet of track was reduced to a shambles of twisted steel and splintered cross-ties.

New Well Sparks Milam Oil Activity

CN Field Records No Dry Holes

By Lloyd Albertson

The Cherokee Navarro Field east of Milano will have another wildcat scheduled in a few days which will be drilled by three Houston oilmen who are new operators in Milam County's booming new field.

They are R. E. Zimmerman, Robert E. Fendley and James B. Whitley with offices at 5050 Westheimer, Houston.

Zimmerman, Fendley and Worley's upcoming wildcat will be their No. 1 Lillian Beard.

Location is on a 100 acre lease in B. F. Swoap Survey. It is permitted to 4,000 feet with the Nacatoch as its objective.

The Nacatoch, which has seldom been tested in this area, lies near the Navarro and is an excellent oil bearing formation.

The No. 1 Lillian Beard is located near the No. 1 Coleman and Wallace Beard which Dave Thomas, a Farmington, New Mexico operator brought in as a 61.25 barrel per day producer about the first of the year.

If the Lillian Beard hits production, Zimmerman, Fendley and Worley reportedly plan to drill four more wildcats immediately. They have assembled a lease block of about 600 acres in the area.

CN A SUCCESS

In other developments, the Cherokee Navarro is turning out to be a spectacularly successful oil field. All wildcats drilled in it so far have hit either oil or gas production.

Three wildcats drilled recently by Byron Rose of Houston, his No. 4 Ray Woods and his No. 2-A and 3-A Ray Woods, scheduled back in January, all were brought in as good producers. Potential figures have not yet been released about them, however.

Rose's No. 3 Ray Woods, drilled earlier, was brought in as a gas well, but now has been converted into an oil well.

This brings to seven wells Rose has drilled in the field with no dry holes.

Two other operators in the field also have been successful.

Dave Thomas, in addition to his No. 1 Coleman and Wallace Beard, has brought in his No. 1 Robert Bailey, located one-quarter of a mile southwest of the Beard. The Bailey, however, will be worked over immediately to try to improve production from the Nacatoch.

Another operator, W. M. Galaway, Farmington, New Mexico, has drilled in his No. 1 R. R. Fussell and is running tests on it. The Fussell was scheduled late in March as a 4,000 foot Navarro test. Location is on a 50 acre lease in I. N. Hitchcock Survey.

And a Houston operator, Victor P. Head, who scheduled a 3,750 foot Navarro wildcat in the eastern part of the Cherokee Navarro field has drilled it in as a gas well.

It is his No. 1 Marjorie Jordan, located on a 101 acre lease in B. F. Swoap Survey. The well is shut in, and has approximately 1,000 pounds of shut-in pressure.

MILBUR RUMORS

There are increasing rumors in the oil patch that the Milbur Field, which lies along the Milam - Burleson County line, and which has had little activity lately, is due for a big increase in drilling activity, both with new wildcats scheduled, and old holes reworked and deepened.

Activity in Milbur is expected to start within 90 days.

118 Votes Cast In City Election

The City Council canvassed votes cast in the city election Tuesday evening, counting 118 votes.

Mayor E. A. Perrin was re-elected with 110 votes; incumbent Councilman Lester Turner re-elected with 108; and Monroe Fuchs was elected to Councilman, Place 2 with 104 votes.

The mayor and councilmen were sworn in by City Secy. Buddy Fuller. Council accepted Mayor Perrin's recommendation to retain the present city department heads.

Cameron is still looking for a replacement for Street Supt. J. B. Earle, whose resignation was to be effective April 1. Mayor Perrin said Earle has offered to stay on until a new superintendent is hired.

ordinance, Water Supt. Alvin Hefft reported that the houses in question still have outdoor privies and no sewer connections.

Councilman Fuchs offered his resignation from the Cameron Urban Renewal Board, which was accepted. He then made his first motion, following discussion of an appointee to replace him on the Board.

Dr. George Bowman, Cameron dentist, was appointed to the UR board. Present members were reappointed by the Council.

Members are: Albert Hajovsky, W. A. McCullin Sr., Miss Mildred Thornton, Bill Burns, James Camp, and E. P. Young.

LANDFILL LOCATION

Mayor Perrin said the City was still looking for a new location for sanitary landfill, adding that the present area used for waste disposal is about full.

Several offers of land were discussed with no action taken. One of the biggest problems in locating an area is the distance from Cameron, Mayor Perrin noted.

Routine bills and department reports were approved, and first reading heard of an amendment to the zoning ordinance to include the City's most recently annexed area.

CLEARING THE SMOKE. . . Danny Obermiller, son of Marine Sgt. and Mrs. Don Obermiller, now of 29 Palms, Calif., resolves adult habits well in advance.

Mrs. Walter E. Obermiller, of Cameron, Danny's grandmother, tells the story:

When he is in a car and his Dad lights a cigarette, Danny is in misery: he gets sick; he gets a headache; he begs to roll down his window.

Recently, on their way home from church, they (the California Obermillers) picked up a soldier walking back to the Marine Corps base.

Danny's mother heard him mumbling in the back seat: "I hope he doesn't smoke." Danny sat musing for a few seconds, then said:

"When I get big enough to hitchhike and if someone stops to pick me up, I'm going to open the door and ask the driver if he smokes. If he says 'yes,' I'm going to say 'thank you,' but I'll walk."

"Needless to say," reports the family, "he won his point."

PARENTHESIS -- Mrs. Don Obermiller, Danny's Mother, worked at The Herald during 1969, late in that year moving to 29 Palms when her husband returned to California duty after a tour in Vietnam. CLOSE

This anecdote is a good insight into the insight of kids, Art Linkletter, the television master of

If educators wonder at the learning ability of kids, they should observe kids observing incidents like this.

'Cowboy' Lonely Strength...

Alcoa is presenting a one-hour television special 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 9.

It is a color special called "Cowboy" and pre-release information suggests it is worthy of the wide audience prime television reaches in early evening.

It could be inspired by Cameron's own James Brock, cowboy artist, subject of a long, well-written feature in the Waco dailies of recent issue, and guest of a Hereford couple who collect Western Art.

James is of that rare breed which this feature is all about: Self reliant, quiet, but strong beyond the caricatures movie and television paint of a cowboy.

110 once wrote of Brock: "James is finding truth about

Tuning Up...

There is music in the air on windy, bluesy days. A perfectionist might claim that he hears notes slightly off key; but only a perfectionist could object as the woodwinds, flutes, cellos and percussion instruments sound the introductory notes that will swell to fortissimo a little later.

Blue jays flash above the orchard and their far-carrying bugling tells a world stirring from ice and cold that a new season is here. Crows sit in tall elms by the meadow brook and sound raucous notes that are strangely musical when a man stands in the farm dooryard enjoying the warm sun on his neck.

Chickadees chant their sweet, himself and his work. He is finding plenty of audience, too, wherever his figures pose a cowboy in midair, a bull heaving under a rider's straddle, an Indian bowed to some menial chore, a horse straining to the pull of a calf just roped.

"These are James Brock's view of the West, a view that is changed, but envied, a morality play of one, a story in truth only begun."

Perhaps Alcoa's "Cowboy" is cut along these lines, and the sponsors and writers know the American people need be reminded that men once were that free, some few still are, and that lonely strength is especially essential in a computerized, televised era.

two-noted spring song from the old August Sweet tree by the ice-house. Cock partridges mount a fallen log in the wood and their reverberating drum roll carries far on a mellow day.

You can hear the soft sounds of violins and cellos among evergreen branches. On a mild day after a frosty night, the drip drip of water from icicles on the south side of the barn keeps gentle time. The winter sleep is not over; but earth's primal forces are stirring. If a man listens, he can hear the prelude. It is only tuning up time, but the tentative notes are a welcome melody as winter retreats.

Gov. Smith Urges War Against Teen Drug Abuse

AUSTIN — "Things are going to get worse, unless we plan and fight a war against drug abuse in Texas," Gov. Preston Smith told the Conference on Public Health and Drugs.

Noting that in the past 10 years "arrests of teenagers for drug abuse increased 800 per cent," Smith urged the conference to come up with new means of controlling and preventing drug problems, as well as reviewing what is being done.

"We need to examine penalties," he said. "The drug offender who is caught is often very young. He may have been pressured into experimentation with drugs."

"Yet, within the legal machinery, his punishment can be as severe as that of a dope pusher, or seller."

"Is this fair? Or is it out of proportion with the crime?" Smith asked.

Earlier, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes — accompanied by newsmen, law officers and government officials — toured drug treatment and mental health facilities over the state. On the trip, Barnes proposed a State drug center near a medical school for treatment, rehabilitation and research.

Later, Barnes joined Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin at the meeting of the Crime and Narcotics Advisory Committee with the Texas Education Agency to hear what plans the agency has developed for teaching a course on the dangers of drugs and crime, as required by the last Legislature.

Speaking to the meeting, Martin expressed concern over the increasing use of heroin, which, he said, is becoming a major problem.

Involving young people in the program will be necessary if it is successful, the Attorney General said, because "no program of narcotics control can ever be effective unless the young people themselves want to be effective."

REGISTRATION
A record total of 4,150,645 Texans are qualified to vote during the primary and general elections this year. Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. reported that count as the State Chief Election Officer.

Statewide total is almost 80,000 more — in the 1968 presidential year.

Metropolitan area county registrations rose dramatically from 1969. Harris County (Houston) alone accounted for 650,612 of the votes, Dallas 466,925 and Bexar (San Antonio) 260,225.

Dies said he is confident new procedures for registration and various drives by groups produced the record jump, which he had predicted, even though 1970 is a non-presidential year.

ROAD DEVELOPMENT ASKED
South Texas highway boosters called on the Highway Commission for $150.8 million worth of highway developments ranging over 1,275 miles during the next decade.

Projects are in District 15 which includes Atascosa, Banderas, Bexar, Comal, Frio, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kerr, LaSalle, McMullen, Medina and Wilson Counties.

Delegation urged state expenditures of $146.5 million for construction and $4.2 million for right-of-way in "Plan for '70's." About $87.9 million of the total would go to farm-to-market roads.

Long-range plan does not include interstate projects, those programmed for later construction or strictly-urban facilities.

BILINGUAL DISTRICTS PICKED
Thirteen Texas school districts have been selected by the U. S. Department of Education to submit plans for a bilingual education program during the 1970-71 school year.

They are Alamo Heights, Northside Independent School District and South Side ISD, all of San Antonio; Alice; Colorado City; Corpus Christi; Del Valle; Edinburg; El Paso; Galveston; Kingsville; Orange Grove and Port Isabel.

Children three to 18 with limited English — speaking ability will be benefitted. Seventy-six other districts now operate under bilingual program funding.

PARK ACCEPTED
State officially took deed to the 4,800-acre scenic Wheatley Ranch for a state park, after Governor Smith handed a $930-465 check to Mrs. C. A. Wheatley of San Antonio.

The major park development, with anticipated federal aid, is in the planning stage. Reporters could not help pointing out that the state could have had the entire Wheatley property — with wild game, river frontage, waterfalls, fish and stands of trees — absolutely free eight years ago. Deal fell through when the legislature failed to provide the requested $250,000 for development.

Meanwhile, the Governor has requested federal study of possible release of the Matagorda Island military installation in Calhoun County for recreational purposes.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:
According to all the newspapers I've seen out here lately, everybody is in a turmoil over strikes and what to do about them, and I'll get to that later, but first I'd like to point out that things are not all bad.

For instance, when a neighbor asked me why I wasn't at work, I told him I keep up with the news and was fully aware everything was at a standstill on account of the New York mail strike. My hands were tied.

They were tied again when the air controllers fouled up the time this gets into The Herald they may be tied by half a dozen other strikes. If I miss any, let me know.

However I realize everybody isn't as adaptable as I am to work stoppages and I notice that the politicians across the country are attacking the problem from every angle you can manage with a speech without ever getting around to an answer.

I have thought the problem over carefully and have a suggestion.

Like things are now, nobody knows when the next strike will break out. Nobody knows in the morning whether his entire activities will be paralyzed by nightfall. If the airlines aren't struck, it could be the post office, the trucking industry, the railroads, the tractor companies, the public schools, the fire department, the police department, the sanitation department, newspapers, television stations, the long-skirt designers, the kindergartens, the colleges, and maybe even, right in the middle of the season, baseball itself.

Therefore it seems to me what Congress ought to do is to establish a National Strike Week. Set aside one week out of the year, probably in the spring when the sap is rising, when everybody who's going to strike, strikes.

During that week everybody ought to throw his hat in the air and quit, and the last one off the job is a rotten egg.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Control Of Plant Diseases

By J. D. Moore

Crop producers and home owners are primarily interested in three phases of plant disease control; identification, control practices and economics of control.

It is sometimes said, by the totally uninformed, that certain plant diseases cannot be controlled. It is true that some diseases are more difficult to control than others but all diseases causing organisms have their vulnerable points and can be controlled.

Organisms responsible for plant disease development are microscopic in size and their presence cannot be detected visually. This tends to create a barrier to quick adoption of control practices.

DAMPENING OFF of seedling plants is caused by a soil borne pathogen and its symptom is the falling over of seedling plants due to being girdled at the soil line.

Control: Cultural practices should be modified to avoid high soil moisture and cold soil temperatures. Young seedlings should not be crowded and should be grown where they are exposed to direct sunlight.

SOIL STERILIZATION by heat or chemicals can be used effectively. Chemicals must be used as a pre-plant treatment.

EARLY BLIGHT IN TOMATOES - The spots on the foliage of early blight may at times be confused with gray leaf spot. This disease may cause cankers on the stems near the soil line. Control: Beginning when blossoms appear and at 7 day intervals vals spray with 80% Maneb. Shorten the interval to four days during high humidity.

BACTERIAL WILT - Tomato plants affected with this disease wilt very suddenly and die. Remove affected plants and be careful not to contact adjacent plants. Complete soil disinfection prior to planting is the most satisfactory measure.

GRAIN SORGHUM DISEASE - Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus is a serious disease of sorghum. Symptoms of MDMV appear on leaves as a chlorotic mottle of light and dark green areas intermingled. Malformed heads and stunting of the plant growth are symptoms. Aphids transmit the virus after feeding on infected host plants such as Johnsongrass.

CONTROL: Plant resistant varieties and destroy Johnsongrass and other host plants growing near sorghum fields. Information is available at the county agents office on identifying and controlling plant diseases.

Texas Coast Hosts Whooping Cranes

The United States Postal Service has done some fine detective work to help them locate the correct addressees on mail aimed in the general direction of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast, according to reports from Refuge Manager Gordon Hansen.

One letter came from England, addressed to "Wildlife Refuge with Whooping Cranes, Texas, USA". The postal service delivered that one without any trouble.

Another was addressed to "Aransas Texas National Wildlife Refuge", no town named, no zip code, but the mail went through on time.

Another was addressed to "The Warden, Aransas Reserve, Near Corpus Christi, Texas." It came all the way from London and was delivered on time at the famed Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, winter home of all the wild whooping cranes in the world.

Still another was addressed to Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge, Blackjack Peninsula, Texas. It got there, after a short delay while the Post Office Department figured that one out.

Fifty-six wild whoopers found the refuge this past fall, and are spending their winter months in the safety of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. The cranes seem to know its address, but for those who do not know, the correct address is P.O. Box 68, Austwell, Texas, 77950.

ALERT FOR SCREW WORMS

With the arrival of spring and warmer weather, screw worm cases can again become a problem. Producers are urged to step-up their inspection programs and reporting systems.

Imported Bull Is County's First

"Wenlock Julian," Milam County's first imported bull, is getting used to a new country and climate at Leon Noack ranch near Rockdale.

The 18-month-old registered Hereford bull came from Shropshire, England, purchased by Noack from Richard Milner. It has been on Noack's place for about three weeks.

The Milam County rancher has been performance testing cattle for 17 years, and those cattle have been turning in some of the highest performance ratings in Texas and out of state feedlot tests.

His bulls have been sold to ranchers in seven states, as far away as Montana, and also in Mexico.

Noack's imported Hereford is a double - bred "Tarrington March On" bull. "He will give me a broader genetic base to work on," he said.

He noted that at 12 months the bull weighed 2,9 pounds per day of age.

Noack has known Milner for about three years. He saw the bull's mother and grandmother when he made a visit to England some time ago.

He added that the Shropshire climate is quite a bit different from Milam County's, but "Herefords are noted for their adaptability," he said.

The bull arrived in the United States in October, and spent nearly six months -- until March 18 -- in quarantine. The long period is required to be sure imported cattle are free from hoof and mouth disease.

Measurement service often saves farmers money. If a farmer plants before measurement, he may plant too much and be out not only the cost of planting, but may also be out the cost of plowing up the crop. If he plants less than his allowed acreage, he may lose money by not having as much production as he is entitled to.

Measurement service if offered by the County ASCS Office to farm program participants as a sure way to know they are in compliance with acreage requirements of farm programs. When a farmer participates in the wheat, feed grain, or cotton program, he certifies to the precise acreage he has in these crops and, except for cotton, the acreage he has diverted from these crops. There is no voluntary diversion provision in the cotton program this year.

The farmer must also be certain he has enough additional acres in conserving use to meet his conserving base requirement. Errors in certification can result in reduction or loss of payments.

Certification can be described as a "do-it-yourself" system by which farmers report their crop and program acres to the County ASCS Office. Farmers are cautioned that farm acreages must be certified before the crop disposition date, that is, the final date after which the crop may not be plowed under for compliance.

Most farmers participating in these programs are familiar with the "spot check" system under which farms picked at random have their crop acreages measured. Producers found out of compliance by spot check may not dispose of the excess crop to bring their acreage back in compliance.

Early certification will help speed up program payments. Payments to farm program participants in 1970 will be made as soon as possible after July 1. Payments are expected to be completed as much as two months earlier than in previous years.

WATCH BABY PIGS

Officials of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service say farmers often may not suspect hog cholera because of the length of the time between possible exposure to hog cholera and signs of the disease. Because of lengthy "incubation" period, this is a particularly treacherous means of hog cholera spread.

Bill To Ask State Aid For Private Parochial Schools

Legislators are taking a look at proposals to be introduced to the 62nd session in January of 1971, and Rep. Dan Kubiak listed several in his newsletter this week.

A bill has been drafted by the South Texas Legislative Delegation to make state funds available for use by private and parochial schools, according to Rep. Kubiak.

Legislators in Dallas plan to introduce legislation which would legalize abortion in cases of rape, incest or threat to the mother's physical or mental health.

Rep. Kubiak noted that legislation in regard to X-rated movies is proposed in three areas:

1. Impose a license fee on theaters which show X-rated movies.

2. Limitations on advertising of X-rated movies in newspapers.

3. Provide for the loss of license of those who allow underage people into the theaters.

Gov. Ben Barnes and a committee of 40 will present information to the 62nd Legislature on drugs and marijuana.

The committee favored a reduction of the penalty for first-time possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor, but at the same time, favored stiffer penalties for pushers of the drugs, Kubiak said.

Rep. Kubiak invites opinions on the proposals. His address is Box 272, Rockdale, Texas.

Yoemen Win 4 Firsts In R'dale Relay

Cameron Yoemen won four first places in the Rockdale meet on Saturday and placed in other events.

Ken McLerran won first in the pole vault event with an 11'6" vault; Jerry Richardson, first in high jump with 5'3"; Dan Bradley first in broad jump with 19'11"; and Carroll Michalka first in the 880 run with a time of 2.09.

A fifth place was won by the 440 relay team: Mark Dodson, Michalka, Johnny Bailey and J. Richardson.

880 relay, fifth place: Dodson, Bill Gray, Robert Brashear, Richardson.

Shot put - sixth, Robert Kretschmar.

Shot put - fourth, Dan Bradley. He also won fifth place in the 100 and 200.

In the pole vaulting event, Jesse Daleo and Brashear tied for fifth place.

Good Food Buys Listed

To help economize on the food bill, here are some tips from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University, about good buys in this week's market.

At retail meat counters, look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks and beef liver. Pork values include picnics, end cut loin roasts and chops and pork liver.

Fryers generally are the biggest bargain in most meat departments but prices vary considerably among stores, she notes. Consider the whole bird rather than cut-up fryer or parts for lowest prices.

Grade A large size eggs continue to offer the most quality and economy for egg money.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in good supply at the most economical prices include navel and juice oranges, apples, pears, bananas, grapefruit, straw-berries, potatoes, head lettuce, celery, cabbage, carrots, radishes, green onions, dry yellow onions and sweet potatoes.

HOW TO CONTROL CEDAR TREE RUST

If you find your cedar trees covered with a slimy orange substance, they are infected with a fungus disease known as cedar apple rust.

Jerral Johnson, Extension plant pathologist, says the organism is rather unique in that it lives for two years on cedar and on apple trees.

Chemical controls have not proved effective but by removing the galls before they mature, prevention of the jelly-like substance can be achieved.

If the substance has formed, it can be washed away with a high pressure stream of water, says the pathologist.

Safe Lair of Own Soothes New Pet

Young pets, like children need security and benefit from lairs of their own.

A 12x24-inch playpen lets a small kitten or puppy frolic or snooze safely from careless human feet.

One two-foot length of 12-inch board will form the floor. Twelve- and 24-inch lengths of 2x2s make corner uprights and top rails. Slats make up the sides, spaced close enough so your pet can't squeeze his head through.

Any of the easily-worked western softwoods are suitable. Add washable padding on the floor and a catnip mouse or rubber bone.

This year's show will have a modern theme under the title "Flower Power." It will be open to the public from 3 to 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 15, at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

The class for non-member growers has drawn special attention this year according to Mrs. Durwood Cobb, Flower Show chairman. "There are so many outstanding in door plant growers in Cameron that we felt this featured class will be a great addition to our show," Mrs. Cobb said.

Anyone interested in entering a plant may contact Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Bernay Dusek or Mrs. James Camp. Entries should be at the Fellowship Hall by 10 a.m. the day of the show.

TO SING HERE -- The Harmony Maids of Temple Junior College will be a featured attraction of a program to be presented by the TJC choir at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 22 in the Cameron High School Auditorium. ligious to classic. From left, standing, are Janie Guthrie, Connie Hitchcock, Lana Spoons, Sandra Richter, and Debbie Fipps. Seated is Eva Jo Clawson. On the same day the choir representing the 43-year-old college will appear at 9 a.m. in Rosebud and at 1 p.m. in Rogers.

DKG LUNCHEON
SPEAKERS VIEW
LITERATURE, ART

Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its regular meeting Saturday, April 4, at Houston's Restaurant in Marlin, for a noon luncheon, with the Marlin members in charge of arrangements.

The program held discussions on "Values of Newspapers, Magazines, and Literature" by Mrs. Ruby Binns of Rosebud, and "Values of Music and Art" by Mrs. Geneva Hughes of Marlin. Mrs. Binns stressed optimism in her talk, stating that the emphasis on realism in modern writings need not lay stress on the ugly and depressing, "for there is as much reality in the good and the beautiful as in the unpleasant." She stated that children need to be exposed to the best in life and that teachers and parents should realize this and accept it as a challenge.

Mrs. Hughes in her talk stressed the need of music and art in one's life to enrich and enlarge. She had as guest speakers Robert Miesch, Marlin Band Director, and Mrs. Sam Gray, art teacher in the Marlin schools.

Miesch stressed the need for cultivating good taste in music as the child grows, by exposing him to the best in musical composition. "Man needs music as part of his cultural growth and should be able to choose the best to hear," he said. "We do not need a cultural revolution, but we do need a cultural enrichment."

Mrs. Gray feels the need of creativity in everyone's life, and art furnishes a great outlet for it. She showed how music and art are correlated by having one of her classes paint to music. For certain tunes, different colors were used unconsciously by the students. Student reaction to the question "Is Art Necessary?" was decidedly positive.

During the business session, new officers were elected.

Elected to serve the chapter for the next two years are Mrs. Geneva Hughes of Marlin, president; Mrs. Gwynn Range of Marlin, first vice-president; Mrs. Peggy Clark of Rosebud, second vice-president; Mrs. Irene Kosel of Burlington, recording secretary; Mrs. Martha Royal of Rosebud, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Helen Ligon of Lott, treasurer.

Pottery Vinegar Test
Detects Lead In Glaze

COLLEGE STATION -- Homemakers can test their own Mexican pottery to detect harmful lead in the glaze. The lead can cause severe illness through lead poisoning.

Recently the Food and Drug Administration warned that continued use of some Mexican pottery or earthenware for food purposes could cause lead poisoning.

Lead is a cumulative poison so it is essential for people to take all steps possible to see that lead intake is kept to a minimum, according to Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M University.

The homemaker can place vinegar in the dish or casserole and let it stand overnight. The dish should be only partly filled with vinegar so she can easily see if there is any difference in the glaze below the vinegar line, says the specialist.

If she detects a change in the glaze, the dish should be used only for non-acid foods. Acid foods include fruits such as tomatoes and citrus fruits and vegetables such as green beans, spinach and broccoli. If the homemaker wishes to bake in the pottery, Miss Reasonover suggests lining the dish with aluminum foil.

Candidates Under Study By Students

TEMPLE

What do you know about the candidates for political office who are to be elected in the May 2 primaries?

More than 200 government students at Temple Junior College are discovering that it isn't easy to learn enough about all the candidates to make an easy decision.

Their term paper assignment: To tell enough about each of the candidates in the Democratic and Republican primary elections that a voter not otherwise acquainted with them could make an intelligent decision for marking his own ballot.

Emphasis in the assignment is on candidates in each party which face opponents.

NEW HIGHWAY MAP

Copies of the 1970 Official State Highway Map are now available at Texas Highway Department Tourist Bureaus, at Department District offices, and by mail from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Austin 78703. The map is free.

The largest encyclopedia ever compiled was 11,095 manuscript volumes written by 2,000 Chinese scholars in 1403-1408.

Since February, the students have been bombarding political offices and candidates themselves with letters and calls in their attempts to obtain decisive data on qualifications and philosophical viewpoints.

Papers will be due several days before the election itself, and a secret vote will be taken on the candidates in both parties. Later, results of this "informed" poll will be weighed against results of the primary elections themselves.

Traffic law requires that you use the low beam when an oncoming vehicle approaches within 500 ft and when following within 200 ft.

An approaching driver's low beam is extremely important to you. If the two of you can't cooperate in this vital matter, then the ensuing glare-for-glare duel may result in no more light for either of you--ever.

If an oncoming driver forgets the low beam courtesy, flick your headlights to bright and back to low beam.

If he ignores this signal and leaves his beam on high, don't lose your temper and engage in a battle of glare. Such a show of temper may cost lives.

Instead of fighting back with glare, keep your lights on low and fix your gaze on the road ahead. Look directly into his bright lights. Trying to watch the left lane marker might bring you too close to a head-on collision.

Train People For Work, Vo-Tech Meeting Told

AUSTIN

Eight hundred Texans from 150 cities are back home this weekend after talking about training people for work in two days of discussion which ranged from chilling statistics to campaigning fervor.

Among other things, participants in the Governor's Conference on Vocational - Technical Education held in Austin heard that:

1. "we must build a new Texas within 25 years," to meet growing needs, 2. vocational education is not different from technical and professional education, 3. optimism in a technical world is wishful thinking without training, 4. every student should leave school with a diploma and a job, and 5. conferees must help form public opinion that stresses the dignity of work.

Wind-up speaker Dr. Walter Kerr of Tyler supplied both the sobering fact about Texas construction needs and the challenge to do something now to improve vocational education. He is vice president of the Construction Industry Council for Education, Manpower, and Research. A first-string roster of speakers had earlier spotlighted problems and prospects.

But it was the participants themselves in five hearing sessions who showed the spectrum of factors that influence vocational education in Texas. Their numerous recorded comments will be used by the Advisory Council on Technical - Vocational Education in Texas as part of a report to the Legislature next December.

An informal poll in a hearing on "attitude" underscored the Advisory Council contention that most people feel that vocational education is "for somebody else's children." In a group of more than 100, only six had children in vocational programs.

Participants stressed needs to: give labor equal partnership in planning; repair the image of vocational education; stress that vocational programs are not just for the disadvantaged; and re-educate school counselors so they have more current occupational information.

A session on management pointed to statewide planning difficulties caused by the multitude of laws affecting education, a diffusion of management, and the flow of funds from sources where other people make the decisions. Participants also called for local participation in planning and evaluation of training programs.

A hearing on the needs of Texas brought the recommendation that employers set specific performance standards toward which educators can train. Another comment from the same session was "Why should industry train for entry level skills -- that should be the schools' job." Participants also called for education and industry to use better and more current data for planning.

The two other sessions concentrated on personnel and on resources, costs, and funding.

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

When you buy any Impala V8 model during our "400" Sale, here's how you can get two popular extras at no extra charge.

You order your Impala equipped with a Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, radio, Comfortilt steering wheel, front and rear bumper guards and white stripe tires. Items you'd probably order anyway.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts--both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too.

You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy--year after year after year.

How can you beat that?

- A SILVER SALUTE - FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

For 25 Years of Pride—Progress—and Purpose

NATIONAL FHA WEEK APRIL 5-11, 1970

This year marks the 25th anniversary of the founding of Future Homemakers of America as a national youth organization in vocational education, co-related with the home economics education program.

The signing of the first National Vocational Education Act by President Woodrow Wilson brought into being federally-supported, state-conducted programs of vocational education which included home economics. Through home economics education the foundation was laid for the development of Future Homemakers of America as an integral part of the program.

An outgrowth of various state and local high school home economics clubs known by different names, Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, non-profit national organization for home economics students in junior and senior high schools, both public and private.

Members of The American Home Economics Association and the Home Economics Education Staff of the U. S. Office of Education took the lead in forming this national organization to provide an opportunity for all home economics clubs to combine efforts in working together on improved home and family living on a national scale.

Kentucky was the first State Association to affiliate with the national organization. By the end of the first year, membership had almost doubled and national offices had been moved into the U. S. Office of Education.

Future Homemakers of America begin their twenty-fifth year with 604,000 members in 12,000 local high school chapters. The record shows affiliated associations in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and The Virgin Islands—and affiliated chapters in American Schools located in Germany, Japan, Iran, and The Canal Zone.

In its twenty-five years of existence Future Homemakers of America has served more than fifteen million high school youth.

SEWING class time is popular for Future Homemakers. Mrs. I. N. Hughes, clothing instructor, helps Beverly Zarosky.

Thorndale Trustees Set Plans

Thorndale trustees elected James Terry as board president, Herman Wiese, vice president, and Mrs. Anita B. Kasner, secretary, in a re-organization meeting Monday. In other action, they reviewed the kindergarten program which will move to state aid next year.

Trustees also adopted a school calendar for the 1970-71 year. Thorndale schools will open August 24 and close May 27. The calendar includes 10 days in-service for teachers.

B. C. Sims, Thorndale superintendent, said the board had not gone to the new state scheduling (mid August to mid-May) this year, but would probably schedule mid-term exams before the Christmas holidays.

Sims said 28 children were enrolled in the public school kindergarten, funded this year under federal Title I aid. He said the kindergarten would be continued next year on a full school year basis under state support.

Sims said the state program was for children with a language barrier or from families with less than $3,000 annual income. He said that although they would receive state aid for only these children, they would accept any child who was 6 years or more by the opening of school. "We will have one teacher and expect to have 28 to 30 students," Sims said.

He said kindergarten had been on a half day schedule last year but would move to a regular 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. schedule next fall.

NEW RULINGS ISSUED ON PRODUCT COUPONS

New rulings from the Federal Trade Commission say that coupons enclosed in consumer products may contain no expiration date. If a date is necessary, it must be such as to allow purchasers of the product at least six months to redeem the coupon.

The ruling resulted from complaints by homemakers that the coupons too often have expired before the product ever left the grocer's shelf.

Manufacturers who state on the outside of a package or in their ads that a coupon is enclosed also must clearly define the limits of the coupon. They must state what it is for, how much it is worth and what limitations are placed on its redemption.

The project is located from IH 45 to 0.8 mile north of SH 21; from 2.1 miles west of FM 1786 to 1.1 miles west of SH 36; from 0.6 mile north of FM 1712 to the US 79 overpass; from the US 79 overpass to the Lee County line; and from FM 2513 to SH 5.

Delton Kittrell of Hearne is the Highway Department engineer in charge of the project which will take an estimated 75 working days.

GI Policies Get

Premium Reduction

Insurance rate reductions up to 35 percent in two classes of GI National Service Life Insurance policies were announced today by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Veterans holding policies affected by the new rates will save $10,000,000 in premium payments every year, Mr. Johnson said.

Premiums on one group of about 164,000 life insurance policies will be reduced an average of 18 percent, saving veterans about $5.6 million annually, Johnson said. These reductions result from increased interest earnings in this insurance fund. He said this reduction applied only to policies bearing the prefix "J" — not to those with "JR" and "JS."

SPJST Sets Dedication For Lodge

Dedication of the newest lodge of the SPJST, Lodge 174, Rockdale, will be held at the VFW Hall in Rockdale on Sunday, April 19. The hall is located two miles west of Rockdale on Hwy. 79.

The program will start at 1:30 p.m., and dedication and initiation of the members of the lodge will take place immediately after brief opening remarks.

Supreme Lodge President Nick A. Morris and SL Secretary R. A. Urbanovsky from SPJST HQ, in Temple will preside over the initiation proceedings, during which the charter of the new lodge will be presented, along with the lodge banner and other credentials. A number of dignitaries and political figures are expected to be on hand.

After the formal installation ceremonies, the youth of SPJST Lodge 29, Taylor, will dance the Beseda folk dance, and the "Young Loves", a sextet from Granger, and the youth of Lodge 174 will present special music.

A barbecue chicken supper will be served, starting at 3:30. Games and entertainment will follow. The public is cordially invited.

A LOT OF GARBAGE
An average of almost one ton of refuse is thrown away per person in Texas each year. The state average is about five pounds per capita per day, and the figure is rising slowly.

Rep. Kubiak Reviews 61st Action Affecting Schools

CTEDD Directors To Meet

Millard K. Neptune, director of the Southwestern Area of Economic Development Administration will speak to the directors of Central Texas Economic Development District on Thursday.

The regular quarterly meeting of directors will be held at the District Headquarters, Building 20-13 on the Texas State Technical Institute Campus at Waco starting at 7:30 p.m.

Officers and directors of CTEDD from Milam County include: O. B. Harden, treasurer, and directors J. L. Banks, George W. Hutton, Ben Ford, E. A. Perrin, and Bassel Wilson.

Neptune directs the entire EDA program in eleven Southwestern and Western states. EDA is an agency of the Department of Commerce devoted to activities which will increase employment opportunities and improve economic conditions.

Also present for the meeting will be Gregg Campbell, Chief of Planning for the Southwestern Area which headquarters in Austin.

In his weekly newsletter, Rep. Dan Kubiak reviews legislation enacted by the 61st, including HB 241, which revamped the Teacher Retirement System.

All laws pertaining to teacher retirement are compiled in this act and brought up-to-date, Kubiak noted. A main feature of the act is the removal of the $8,400 salary limit on which members may make contributions to the system.

The Committee of 18 on Texas Public School Finance is moving ahead rapidly on the assignment handed to it by the 61st Legislature, Kubiak said.

The assignment is to prepare and recommend to the 62nd Legislature when it convenes next January a specific formula or formulas to establish a fair and equitable basis for the division of financial responsibility between the state and the various local school districts of Texas.

The committee is reviewing the present methods for determining state and local financial contributions to the Minimum Foundation School Program and is charged with providing a fair and equitable financial responsibility formula for financing public school education.

"If any of you have any information as how this needs to be done or can offer some alternatives," Kubiak said, "we encourage you to write us so that we can inform the committee."
